Students' Syllabus Feedback Report
Academic Year 2025–2026

Introduction:

The Students' Syllabus Feedback Report for the academic year 2025–2026 has been prepared to systematically collect and analyze students' feedback regarding the syllabus. The purpose of this report is to evaluate the relevance, effectiveness, and applicability of the curriculum in supporting academic excellence, employability, and overall personality development.

Objectives of the Report:

1. To assess students' learning experiences and satisfaction with the syllabus.
2. To identify the strengths of the current syllabus in meeting academic and professional needs.
3. To highlight areas of the syllabus that require improvement or updating.
4. To provide recommendations for enhancing the curriculum in line with modern educational trends.

Methodology:

Feedback was collected from 375 students across the following programs and semesters:

- B.A. and B.Com.: Sem 1, 3, and 5
- M.A. and M.Com.: Sem 1 and 3

The responses were analyzed to identify key trends, overall satisfaction, and suggestions for improvement.

Significance:

This report serves as a crucial tool for the institution to make informed decisions for curriculum enhancement, ensuring that the syllabus remains student-centric, relevant, and conducive to holistic development.

The consolidated feedback shows that more than 85% of students expressed satisfaction with the syllabus. Students appreciated its relevance, structure, and its contribution to skill development, employability, and ethical awareness. A small number of neutral or disagree responses suggest that minor revisions can be considered to incorporate more contemporary examples, practical exposure, and flexibility.

Recommendations:

1. To incorporate more practical and skill-based learning activities.
2. To update course content in line with emerging trends and industry needs.
3. To strengthen value-based and ethical dimensions in teaching-learning.

Conclusion:

The overall student feedback reflects a strong level of satisfaction and approval of the current syllabus. The institution is committed to using this feedback constructively to enhance curriculum quality and ensure it remains student-centric, relevant, and aligned with the goals of higher education and employability.
